FIRST STUDENT PRODUCTION OF SPRING AWAKENING AND THE NEW SPRING SEASON AT ARTS EDUCATIONAL SCHOOLS LONDON

Press information for immediate release: Tuesday 14 December 2011.

ARTS EDUCATIONAL SCHOOLS LONDON’s top reputation continues to deliver, with a Spring Season of productions by their final year students of both their Musical Theatre and Acting Courses including: CURTAINS, MEASURE FOR MEASURE, ROBERTO ZUCCO and the first student production of SPRING AWAKENING.

The first production of this season is the daring multi-award winning musical SPRING AWAKENING; a perfect show for the young cast - in a journey from adolescent angst to anxious adulthood. The production team includes: director Russell Labey (New Boy . West End); choreographer is Head of first year Dance at ArtsEd David Greenall and musical director Caroline Humphris (A Little Night Music, Sunday In The Park With George . Menier/West End/Broadway). This is the first student production of SPRING AWAKENING, which, with such a young cast, will give an unique insight into the show.

The second production from the final year Musical Theatre students is the 2008 Tony Award winning CURTAINS. 1950’s Boston and all the cast and crew of a Broadway bound musical become suspects after the show’s incredibly untalented leading lady drops dead whilst taking her opening night curtain call. The cast of hugely talented final year students, on the cusp of becoming full time industry professionals, will be directed by West End director Christian Durham (Zorro); choreographed by award winning Andrew Wright (42nd Street - Chichester, Once Upon A Time At The Adelphi) and Head of Music at ArtsEd Dane Preece (Bad Girls The Musical . West End) will MD.

The final year Acting Course will present MEASURE FOR MEASURE directed by Justin Audibert (Assistant Director Long Ensemble at the Royal Shakespeare Company), showing the classical breadth and expertise of the students. ROBERTO ZUCCO directed by Richard Beecham (Threshold Theatre), also highlights their theatrical training in this contemporary, poetic and fast paced mythical journey.

These productions are performed in ARTSED’s fully equipped Studio or Main Theatre, and are the first of several productions open to the public, for the final year Musical Theatre and Acting Course students: enabling them to perform under professional direction and time frames, to live audiences.

A chance to see the stars of the future . ARTSED’s soon to be graduates of 2011: where students are trained to the highest standards, preparing them to succeed worldwide in what is one of the most competitive industries.
